MIDDLEFIELD CONNECTICUT

TO MY FLOWER LOVING FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS

It gives me great pleasure to hand you my 1924 catalogue and in this way, I wish to thank you for your kind patronage during the past season, which was unusual in many ways.

Very little rain for many days, greatly effected the Dahlia and I know a great many of us were greatly disappointed, in its bloom, but we should not be discouraged, as I believe it will come back again this year, more beautiful than ever.

Although I lost about 10,000 blooms by the early frost, I consider I had a satisfactory season.

The Gladiolus, were truly wonderful, and seemed to thrive regardless of weather conditions, and tried to out do each other in their beauty.

I am listing many new varieties, mostly Kunderds originations which I consider the peer of Gladiolus.

At the Hartford Fair, I won first prize on best collection of Gladiolus, also, seven firsts, and three seconds, on individual varieties, losing three awards, account short spikes.

At the New Haven show, I again won first on best collection, seven firsts, one second, and one third, on individual varieties scoring on all entries made.

It might interest you to know these awards were won with such varieties as Mrs. F. C. Peters, Miss Spokane, Mrs. Dr. Norton, Flora, Golden Measure, Richard Diener, Evelyn Kirtland, Titanic, Rose Ash, Loveliness, Purple Glory, Orange Glory, White Glory, Louise, and others.

Those of you who have seen my Garden in bloom, need no invitation to come again this summer, and you who have not, I hereby extend a hearty welcome. Bring your friends and we will show you the most beautiful out-door Flowers that grow.

I believe I have a collection, second to none in the State, which contains some of the finest flowers that can be bought.

D. W. PECKHAM.

TERMS

The descriptions contained herein, are given to the best of my ability, and we must make certain allowances for variation, caused by different soil, and climatic conditions.

I guarantee all stock true to name, and have at least one living eye, when shipped, and anything found otherwise, will be gladly replaced, money refunded, or stock furnished to the amount of that untrue, but in no case will I be liable for a sum greater than the purchase price.

Send in your orders early. This insures your getting what you want, as late orders have to be returned, which of course causes disappointment. I guarantee satisfaction, and if this is not the case when you receive your order, let me know at once.

I ship any time after April 1st by parcel post prepaid. Stock should be unpacked promptly, and kept in a cool place until ready to plant. Dahlias should be covered with dry earth, or sand, to keep from withering.

I will not substitute unless you so specify. My stock is all field grown, healthy and free from disease.

THE GROWING OF DAHLIAS AND GLADIOLUS

DAHLIAS may be planted from May 15th to June 15th in a sunny location, away from roots of trees or shrubs, in a light or sandy soil (if your soil is heavy mix in one-third coal ashes, or sand), five or six inches deep, and three or four feet apart. Lay the tuber flat in the hill, eye up, cover carefully with an inch or so of soil, then a handful of well rotted manure, bone meal, or pulverized sheep manure, being careful not to let the fertilizer come in contact with the tuber (especially the eye). Fill in with soil to within about two inches from level. After the plant is five or six inches high, fill in even. Strong stakes, at least 5 feet long, should be used to support the plant. (Drive your stakes before planting). The most important of all is to keep your ground well cultivated, free from weeds, and never allow it to harden, or bake. Work a little fertilizer around the plant once in a while during the blooming season, and about the middle of August an application of liquid manure (not too strong) will benefit your flowers greatly. Keep the blooms cut, and if you want large flowers, disbud freely. This appears rather hard treatment, but it is necessary to have good blooms. After the frost has killed the tops, cut the stalk off about one inch from ground, and dig care-Turn the clump bottom side up, and allow it to dry in the sun for four or five hours. Be careful not to break off the tubers from the stalk as they are worthless if detached, as the eve starts from the stalk and not the tubers the following Spring. Store in a cellar where you would keep potatoes, and cover with papers to keep from drving up.

GLADIOLUS. These are even more easily to grow and less care than the Dahlia, and may be planted anytime after danger of frost is over, and will bloom in from 75 to 90 days from planting. They will do well in any soil, but best in light, or somewhat sandy conditions, with full sun-light, and four or five inches deep, three inches apart. I use bone meal but you will get good results from any commercial fertilizer. Manure from the animal is apt to make your blubs scabby unless put on your ground and spaded or ploughed in the fall previous. This is really all the care other than to keep them well cultivated. Stake or run wires to support them. If you want them for house decoration, cut spike soon as it shows color (but be sure and leave at least four leaves for the bulb to mature), change water, and you have a flower which lasts a week. Dig about October 15th and let dry in sun for four or five hours, cut off tops close to bulb and in about two weeks break off the old shell, which forms on bottom, and save the little corns to plant another year, many of them which will bloom in Store in boxes or bags in cellar. Keep from two years. freezing.

BLOOMS

Of the Gladiolus and Dahlias for sale during season, which is about July 10th until October 10, or killed by frost, by the dozen, hundred or thousand. Many of the Gladiolus being high class and expensive varieties, both ruffled and plain petals, I consider you will get some of the most beautiful blooms obtainable from this wonderful flower.

Please Note—Let me again call your attention in cutting the blooms of the Gladiolus, leave at least four leaves for the bulb to develop. I found many of my customers, last Fall who cut the spike close to the ground, ruined their bulbs.

THE FLOWER GROWER

A monthly magazine, published by Madison Cooper, Calcium, N. Y., devoted to Dahlias, Gladiolus, Iris, and Peonies, and other interesting and helpful notes for flower lovers. $1.50 per year.
